LEST WE FORGET

1946

DEDICATION

In acknowledgement of the tremendous and extraordinary task just completed with the help of our own former schoolmates, the veterans of World War II, we, the Class of '46, humbly dedicate this, our annual, and hope it will serve as a small landmark in their future brilliant careers.

PREAMBLE

We, the Annual staff, do hereby present for your edification and enjoyment the 1946 edition of the "Lest We Forget".

We hope by this presentation to preserve for posterity a record of our achievements.

We have "hitched our wagon to a star", and realizing that at times we have fallen short of our goal we leave this goal, perfection, to be aimed at by our underclassmen.

TO THE COMMUNITY:

We, the class of 1946, wish to show our gratitude to the Board of Education, faculty, and parents for providing such an institution of learning as we have here at Cridersville. We appreciate its advantages more and more as we are nearing the end of our school life.

We wish especially to thank the board for their efficient management of the business affairs of the school, the teachers for their helpful guidance, and the parents for their spirit of cooperation. Again, we thank you.

PROPHECY

Since my husband has recently been promoted to Captain in the Navy, his duty called him to do an extensive amount of traveling during the past year. I have had the opportunity of going with him around the world three times, and our travels here in America have been plentiful.

Ten years have passed since that memorable fourteenth day of May in 1946, but still it seems as if it were only yesterday that we graduated from Cridersville High School. Oh yes, that is one day we seniors of '46 will never forget. Remember how nervous we were that night, all of us scared of going out into the cruel, cold world and shifting for ourselves; but that worrying was unnecessary as all of my former classmates have reached the top rung on the ladder to success. How do I know? Because during the last year when we were traveling so much I had the pleasure of meeting every one of them! But wait, wouldn't you like for me to tell you all about it?

We boarded one of the jet-propeled planes heading for California from LaGuardia Field on May 14 of last year. We had just settled back comfortably in our seats and I picked up the latest "Fashion", a magazine for women. Can you imagine my surprise when I glanced at the front page and saw that it was edited by one of my old classmates IRENE DAVIS. Her experience as editor of the annual of '46 surely brought rewards. I continued glancing through the magazine and I thought that I should know that face staring out at me from one of the pages. Then it finally dawned on me that it was MARY ALICE PORTER. My, she certainly knew what she wanted and went after it. But then I always thought that she would make a wonderful photographic model. She models the dresses designed by ROSEMARY MAYER and they are the latest creations. An exclusive shop in Paris is now trying to get Rosemary to design the clothing for them but she is perfectly happy to stay in America. So Irene, Mary Alice and Rosemary are working together now. The next time I go to New York I plan on visiting them.

I must have fallen asleep while reading the magazine, because I was awakened by a tap on the shoulder. I looked up to see flight nurse smiling at me and if I had been standing I'm sure that I would have fainted from mere surprise, because that nurse who was standing there grinning at me was EVELYN ARCHER. I remember how she used to want to be a nurse when she graduated, but I never could imagine her as a flight nurse. It seemed as if she never was so anxious to go up in an airplane. My how times do change, We talked for a few minutes and she told me that DICK and JOANNE -- now Mr. and Mrs. Crumrine -- were living in California. Dick is a mechanical engineer and Joanne is just content to be a housewife. When we arrived in California the first thing we did was to take a run out to their home in Beverly Hills. Dick had enlisted in the Navy as a mechanical engineer after he graduated and was now known the world over as the architect who had designed the building to house the U.N.O., which was constructed under the supervision of SMILIE WOLFE, who is now a famous contractor. Smilie and Dick have formed sort of a partner ship in business. We wanted to see the building so we went up that evening. With Dick's influence we managed to secure a pass to get inside. Imagine how surprised I was when MARY BROWN walked out of the conference room. She told me that she was the private secretary to one of the delegates. (Cont'd over)

PROPHECY (CONT)

She has been married for almost ten years and was going to give up her job to settle down as a dutiful wife. Dick directed us through the rest of the building and as we were leaving we ran into LLOYD FEW and NORMAN MELCHI now both majors in the Army. They certainly like Army life because were in the Army when we graduated. But who wouldn't like it as majors. They had some business to contract at the U. N. O. building so we couldn't detain them for long, but they did tell us that they were both married and very happy. But I always thought EVELYN SCHULTZ and VERNONA ROUSCULP were not waiting around for nothing. Evelyn and Junior are now living in Salt Lake City and Norman and Vernona travel a lot much the same as we do, but they hope to make their home in Houston, Texas as soon as Norman has his business contracts cleared up.

It was getting along toward evening and we had a few stops to make on the way back home so we left by fast train that evening. We had several hours to wait in Chicago and we decided to have dinner and see a show. We dined at an exclusive restaurant in the main part of the city. The food was wonderful and now wonder! Can you imagine who owned the place? WILLARD SELLERS. And you know how he always liked to eat. Willard suggested we go to see the Roller Skating Follies that was making a one-night stand in Chicago while on their tour of the world. He said we would be surprised, so we took his advice and surprised we were! For the star was JIM CLARK, professional skater. And you should have seen how graceful he was. How wonderful it would be to skate like that.

While we were there we saw BUD SMITH. Bud told us that when he got out of Business College he started up a small business school of his own and it had grown into quite an enormous place now and he had as one of his teachers ALBERTA RAMGA. Alberta always liked to teach the primary grades back in Cridersville. The experience was valuable.

We had to rush to catch the train and who should we meet also running to catch the train, but GWEN SHAW. She is now married to a former Navy Captain. They lived on a ranch in Oklahoma and were on their way to Ohio to visit their relatives. They wanted us to go to Cridersville with them and since I had seen all but one of my classmates, we decided to go along.

GENEVIEVE is also married and lives close to the old home town. It was certainly wonderful to see her again. After visiting with them a few hours, we really had to leave for home. We left with great hesitation, but we knew that some day we would come back. I arrived home with a feeling of complete happiness because I had seen all of my friends again after ten long years.

CLASS HISTORY

There are twelve members of the graduating class of '46 that started school together back in 1934 in the first grade in the old school building with Janice Ritchie (Reichelderfer) as our teacher and Mr. A. W. Schultz as superintendent. The twelve graduates are: Evelyn Archer, Mary Brown, Joanne Lowry, Rosemary Mayer, Mary Alice Porter, Alberta Ramga, Evelyn Schultz, Willard Sellers, Bud Smith, Gloria Jean Spyker, and Smilie Wolfe. The rest of the graduates entered in the various grades: Genevieve Briscoe in the fourth grade, Norman Melchi and Lloyd Few in the fifth grade, Dick Crumrine in the seventh grade, Vernona Rousculp in the tenth grade and Irene Davis and Gwen Shaw in the eleventh grade.

I wonder what it would be like trying to write our A.B.C.'s and counting to 100 now, as we did in the first grade! Wasn't it fun earning those pennies when we did our work perfectly?

Our second grade teacher was Miss Cotner (Mrs. Ramga). Remember those reading classes we had? They were the "Red Birds", the "Blue Birds", and the "Black Birds".

Miss Headapohl was our third grade teacher. Wasn't it exciting reading about other lands in our first geography book?

In our fourth year of school Mr. Strasburg was our teacher. That year was one of many events. One of the rules we had was; when a girl was caught talking to a boy she had to sit with him and vice-versa. Of course we always pretended we didn't like it.

Mr. Strasburg was our teacher for the fifth grade also. That is the year we all received a paddling for eating candy in school. Weren't we wicked?

Miss Hardin (Mrs. Wauben) took over the task of educating us in our sixth year. We were then approaching grown-ups, (or so we thought). The biggest event that year was our entry into the brand new school building. My, were we proud, and we still are, of our building!

The seventh year meant our entry into the Junior-High. From then on we changed classes and teachers, and also were in closer contact with the seniors. Boy, did they seem grown-up to us. Mrs. Schultz was our math and music teacher and she has been with us all the rest of the way. Mr. Roger Downing was our Home Room teacher that year.

The eighth grade was much a repetition of our seventh grade, only we were one year nearer to our goal. Our Home Room teacher that year was Mr. Hylen Souders.

Our ninth year marked our entry into the sacred circle of Senior High School. Our initiation week was a mixture of being a little frightened and having a lot of fun. Our Home Room teacher that year was Rachel Beagle (Schumaker).

Our Home Room teachers for the last three years have been Susanne Gillam, tenth, Mr. Hutchens and Mrs. Bright, eleventh, and Mrs. Schultz, this last year.

This brings us up to the present time and as we say good-bye to C.H.S., we can't help wondering what the future holds in store for us.

Joanne & Evelyn S.

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the class of 1946, realizing that our time for departure from the Cridersville High School only a matter of a few weeks, and feeling deeply the responsiblities and privileges that we have cherished during our High School Career at dear old C.H.S., and being in sound mind, do hereby bequeath and publish our last will and testament.

REMEMBER THIS??

It seems like an awfully long time since we last saw the old school building, doesn't it? We spent five years there, sharing in our stride, happiness and sorrow. But I think we shall all agree that those five years will forever live in our memory as some of the happiest years in our lifes.
